Dear Margie:

As you know, ACT Computers has been advertising in the Treasure Coast Business Journal for many years. During our seven years in business, we have grown to 5,800+ customers and now employ 7 full-time technicians. We are currently expanding our storefront on US 1 in the Driver's License Plaza to 3000 square feet and are increasingly catering to the business market, frequently through referrals from the Treasure Coast Business Journal.

The Treasure Coast Business Journal is great for our marketing needs because it is a way to reach out to local customers. Our business depends on local customers because we provide onsite support and have customers bring their computers into our shop for repair. Advertising in the Treasure Coast Business Journal enables us to emphasize on local customers and our proximity empowers us to provide the type of service that customers appreciate. Our business is built on the idea that you won't spend hours on hold to talk to a person or get ran around through a long script regardless of what your problem is. Treasure Coast Business Journal is well positioned to reach out to people who are frustrated with mass-market support and looking to the community for a better solution. As a result, we feel that the Treasure Coast Business Journal is an excellent resource.

Sincerely,
